October 1994

Dear Oklahoma Voters,

I am very pleased to place into your hands the second Oklahoma Voter's Guide, produced by Resource Institute of Oklahoma. In 1992, our Oklahoma City-based public policy research and education institute distributed voter's guides to approximately 25,000 Oklahomans. This year, about half a million copies will be distributed statewide!

The Oklahoma Voter's Guide is designed to help you get the information you need to cast an intelligent vote. It is a nonpartisan document and does not attempt to editorialize. Resource Institute of Oklahoma does not endorse candidates for office. All the choices are up to you.

As you will see, a number of candidates—many of them incumbents—failed to respond to our repeated attempts to get their views on issues of concern to you. Candidates certainly have the right to refrain, but as a voter, you have the obligation to understand the views of candidates before you vote. You have the right to question candidates as to why they did not respond to our numerous inquiries and what answers they would have given to these and to other issues important to you. We have included the phone number for each candidate who chose not to respond so that you might reach them more easily.

Perhaps like never before in our great nation's history, Oklahomans need to stand up for what they believe. Don't fall for the mistaken notion that your vote is unimportant. Many times in history, only one vote has made all the difference. Did you know that many elections are decided by less than one vote per precinct? Our goal is to help you understand how vital your one vote truly is.

Please take a few minutes and read through the Oklahoma Voter's Guide and when you're through, pass it along to a friend. Thank you for being a responsible, informed Oklahoma citizen and for voting on Tuesday, Nov. 8!

Very truly yours,

David Dunn
Director of Research and Policy Analysis

Note: Resource Institute of Oklahoma does not endorse, oppose or support any candidate, and no statements in this guide should be construed or interpreted to do so. Information is presented in a nonpartisan, noneditorial fashion for educational purposes only.

Educating Oklahomans On Public Policy As It Impacts The Family

ABOUT RESOURCE INSTITUTE OF OKLAHOMA

Resource Institute of Oklahoma (RIO) is a nonpartisan public policy research and education institute dedicated to educating Oklahomans on public policy as it impacts the family and to promoting responsible citizenship.

The Institute publishes public policy research on a variety of issues including criminal justice reform, education, family policy, fiscal/tax policy, government spending, health care, institutional reform, and welfare reform. Publications include Report, The Oklahoma Citizen, Fact Sheet, Viewpoint on Public Issues, as well as frequent books and editorial columns. The Institute also produces a daily one minute radio commentary on public issues which airs weekdays on radio stations across Oklahoma.

In its work, the Institute utilizes the intellectual resources of a RIO Academic Advisory Council, composed of Oklahoma Ph.D.'s with expertise in various academic disciplines, and a RIO Physicians Advisory Council, composed of Oklahoma M.D.'s and D.O.'s with expertise in medical issues as they pertain to public policy. RIO is also a member of State Policy Network (SPN), a cooperative association of state-based public policy groups—each committed to a limited government, free enterprise, market-based philosophy.

Resource Institute of Oklahoma, Inc., was incorporated in December, 1989, and is governed entirely by Oklahomans. RIO is recognized by the federal government as a Section 501 (c) (3) nonprofit organization. Individuals, corporations, companies, associations, and foundations are eligible to support the work of Resource Institute-of Oklahoma through tax deductible gifts. To make a contribution or to find out more about us, please call or write.

How The Oklahoma Voter's Guide Was Compiled

A questionnaire, approved by legal counsel for Resource Institute of Oklahoma, was mailed in August to all Oklahoma candidates for federal and state elected office. Candidates' names and addresses were obtained from the Oklahoma State Election Board. If a response was not received, numerous follow-up phone calls were made to the candidates. In many cases, duplicate questionnaires were sent to candidates at fax numbers and addresses given to Resource Institute of Oklahoma by candidates themselves, or by their campaign representatives.

HOW TO USE THE OKLAHOMA VOTER'S GUIDE

To begin, you must know the legislative districts in which you live for U.S. Congress, Oklahoma Senate and Oklahoma House of Representatives. If you don't already know this information, telephone your County Election Board and give them your street address. They will tell you your three legislative districts.

Once you have district information, look to the voter's guide and locate the races you first want to research. Races for U.S. Congress, Oklahoma Senate and Oklahoma House of Representatives are listed by district in numerical order (If you don't find your district listed for some races, it is because only even numbered Oklahoma Senate districts are voted on in 1994; or else voters have already decided the outcome in earlier primary or runoff elections, and no candidate filed for the seat from an opposing political party).

All Oklahoma voters will vote on the U.S. Senate, state-wide candidates, state judicial retention races, and on the state questions, so legislative districts are not necessary for these elections.

If you need further assistance on how to use this resource, we would welcome your call at our Oklahoma City office.

- C. Federal Education Bill (relates to federal candidates' question 9)

Records Commission; Member, Commission for Local Government Technology; Member, Ad Valorem Task Force.

Issues: A. Performing audits, reviews and examinations of State and City governments to evaluated accounting practices, general operation and compliance with state and federal laws. B. Performing investigative audits on colleges and universities, and on cities and towns upon special request. C. Providing constructive recommendations to audited entities to insure proper accounting practices and compliance. D. Creating and updating various procedures and forms for county government.

Questionnaire

Question 1. These entities are usually only audited by our office when they are perceived as having problems and are requested by other state officials or by concerned citizens. If they were to be audited on a regular basis, there would be an increase in the internal controls within each agency. Most, however, do receive the guidance and attention needed to keep their financial operations working according to law.	Legislature needs to address more acutely the disciplinary action when they are found to be in noncompliance. The auditor's office can only report what improper practices are being committed.
Question 2. As in the past, we will continue to report any improper expenditures or the lack of compliance with reporting requirements. The	Question 3. We have worked diligently to move the processes of county government into the 21st century by providing them with electronic data processing. We feel that it is very important to keep county governments up to date with both the changing legislation and procedures so that they may continue to perform their duties in a timely and precise manner.

STATE TREASURER

STATE TREASURER QUESTIONNAIRE

Question 1. Would you support or oppose a requirement that all funds invested by the State Treasurer's office be invested with firms doing business in Oklahoma? Support Oppose

Question 2. As State Treasurer, what would be your major concerns when investing public funds? (Limit answer to 80 words.)

Question 3. What steps would you take to ensure that employees of the State Treasurer's office have no conflict of interest with firms bidding on the state's investments? (Limit answer to 80 words.)

Robert Butkin (D)

Age 41, resides in Duncan and is single.

EDUCATION: Yale University, B.A.; University of Pennsylvania Law School, J.D.; University of the Philippines, Henry Luce Scholar.

OCCUPATION:

EXPERIENCE: Assistant Attorney General, State of Oklahoma, 1987-1994; Director, Citizens Bank of Velma, 1981-Present, Chairman, 1991-Present; Managing Partner; Butkin Oil Company, 1985-Present; Managing Partner, Raizen Oil Company, 1981-1985; Hogan and Hartson Law Firm, 1979-1981.

ISSUES: A. Personally supervise the investment function and other key functions of the office to insure that the public's funds are properly invested and accounted for. B. Implement a rigorous competitive bidding system to insure that the public receives the best yield for the lowest cost on invested tax dollars. C. Review, and if necessary strengthen, conflict of interest and anti-nepotism rules and legislation to insure that there is complete integrity in the operation of the office. D. Restore public confidence to the office by installing user friendly computers in the lobby of the Treasurer's office so that any taxpayer can come in to the office to review the status of the State's investments.

Questionnaire Answers

Question 1 Support - "I believe that firms wishing to sell securities to the State should be required to do business in the State of Oklahoma."

Question 2. "First, I would be a hands on manager, personally making key investment decisions, and insuring that a rigorous system of competitive bidding is enforced. Second, I would examine and revise the investment policy, to insure that the Treasurer could take advantage of the interest rate environment to maximize investment income. Third, I would vigorously enforce the anti-collusion and anti-nepotism requirements to insure that there was no conflict of interest in securities transactions."

Question 3. "Employees handling investments would be precluded from doing business with firms with which they were formerly associated or with which relatives are associated. This policy would be strictly enforced, and any employee violating this policy would be subject to discipline and dismissal, as well as possible civil or criminal proceedings. Rules or law changes would be enacted if necessary to deal with the related problem of employees doing business with securities firms with which they are discussing employment opportunities."

ISSUES: A. Install proper compliance and in-house auditing procedures. B. Install industry-standard investment policies and procedures. C. Initiate liaison between legislative leadership, industry leaders and the State Treasurer's office.

Questionnaire Answers

Question 1. Support

Question 2. Safety and maximum return to the State.

Question 3.

1. I would establish a clear policy outlining what constitutes conflict of interest and prohibiting such conflicts of interest.
2. Installation of compliance officer and on-going monitoring of all policies and procedures.
3. Have an in-house auditor whose duties and responsibilities would be to conduct an on-going audit of all state treasurer business and activities, reporting directly to the State Treasurer.

In addition to these steps and the other questions asked, I would bring over 25 years experience and expertise to the office of actual hands-on money management and investment experience. No other treasurer nor any present candidate can do that. Because of the nature of the office, managing and investing billions of taxpayers dollars, it is imperative that we have a State Treasurer whose education and background is in the financial field; someone who understands the industry and has been successful in the industry. All the compliance in the world isn't sufficient if the person who is to be responsible for the office does not have the expertise and knowledge to be the administrator. I am the candidate with the qualifications necessary to do that.

OCCUPATION:

EXPERIENCE: Consulting Actuary; Former Chief Actuary for State of Oklahoma; Member, American Academy of Actuaries; Fellow, Conference of Consulting Actuaries; Member, Actuaries Club of Southwest.

ISSUES: A. I will be a vocal and concerned insurance commissioner working to lower workers comp rates that are a burden to small business owners. B. I will be vocal and concerned insurance commissioner for freedom of choice in any national health care plan. C. I will ensure accessibility of the office for one on one discussions with policyholders, agents or company representatives. D. I will rebuild the domestic insurance industry creating more jobs, more choice and lower rates.

Questionnaire Answers

Question 1. Health insurance can become more affordable by offering tax credits to individuals and to employers. Premiums can be reduced by eliminating some mandated benefits; by real tort reform and eliminating the high cost of defensive medicine. We can lower automobile rates by insuring that every motorist is insured. We can alternate the inspection sticker date with the tag date with verification of continuous coverage. Oklahoma has the sixth highest homeowners insurance rates in the country. This must be investigated.

Question 2. Tort reform and fraud are the most critical areas to be addressed. Lump sum payment could be eliminated and maximum caps for legal fees could be set in place. Physicians who notoriously award long term and total disabilities should be replaced by physicians who give fair diagnoses for disabilities. The state insurance fund that now writes more than 50% of the workers comp benefits should be run under the same precise standards as any other insurance company.

Question 3. The two additional field investigator positions which are currently vacant should be filled immediately. We need to strengthen the penalty for fraud and increase our ability to prosecute those committing fraudulent activities. Those insurance companies with anti-fraud divisions who are able to reduce premiums Oklahomans pay should be given a premium tax deduction. We need to increase public awareness through an educational process to show how much fraud really costs policyholders.

Questionnaire Answers

Question 1. I don't feel the government should be involved in the purchase of insurance for individuals. There is already too much government involvement in our lives already. For those individuals unable to purchase insurance due to health reasons I would support a "risk pool" to provide benefits for those individuals.

Question 2. I would like to see medical insurance extended to provide benefits 24 hours a day covering occupational injuries so that medical reimbursement would be for actual incurred expenses.

Question 3. We must increase the efforts to uncover fraudulent claims and punish those individuals involved to the full extent of the law

COMMISSIONER OF LABOR

LABOR COMMISSIONER QUESTIONNAIRE

Question 1. Do you generally agree or disagree with the statement: "Every worker should be free to join a union if he/she so chooses. No worker should be forced to join a union against his/her will."

Question 3. Do you support or oppose repeal of the state's prevailing wage (known as "Minimum Wage on Public Works" or "Little Davis-Bacon") law?

Question 5. Part of the Labor Commissioner's job is dealing with prevailing wage complaints. Do you see a need to change the complaint procedures we now have in Oklahoma? Please explain. (Limit answer to 80 words.)

Brenda Reneau (R)

Age 39, resides in Edmond and is single with one daughter.

EDUCATION: Attended University of Oklahoma and University of Central Oklahoma.

OCCUPATION: Executive Director and Association Lobbyist, Associated Builders and Contractors of Western Oklahoma.

EXPERIENCE: Executive Director and Association Lobbyist, Associated Builders and Contractors of Western Oklahoma.

ISSUES: A. To make sure that all Oklahomans are treated fairly and equally without regard to labor affiliation. B. To see that employers and employees are met with a helpful and friendly attitude when calling the Oklahoma Department of Labor for help or information. C. To provide a fair and equitable method of conducting wage surveys for union and open shop employers alike. D. To actively encourage work force training and employee safety programs throughout the state.

Questionnaire Answers

Question 1. No Answer Circled - What is really being asked here is if I support a so-called "Right-to-work" law proposed by management groups. Current law allows workers to organize, negotiate their terms of employment and by majority vote with agreement by management require that all who benefit from those terms of employment will share the union's costs of maintaining that contract the same as when voters decide to share the tax costs of police protection with all who benefit from it. No applicant for employment in Oklahoma today is required to take a job that has union representation of that job. Unlike attorneys, who must be a member of, pay dues to and be licensed by the Oklahoma Bar Association in order practice law in Oklahoma, a plumber does not have to be a member of the Plumbers Union in order to be licensed or employed as a plumber (regardless of what those who support a "Right-to-work-for-less" law in Oklahoma want us to believe).

Question 2. No Answer Circled - I disagree with the truthfulness of the statement made in the question! If you violate this law, the Department of Labor is required to maintain a list of those contractors determined illegible to receive tax dollars for use by agencies who are accepting bids for construction work to be performed by those agencies. A contractor who has cheated his workers out of earned pay will have his/her name appear on the list only for the period of time that they are illegible to bid on or receive tax dollars for public construction work projects.

Question 3. Oppose

Question 4. No Answer Circled - I would oppose such changes because: (1) There would be no other way for our inspection staff to directly observe what type of work is being performed by employees. Since the law requires wages to be paid in accordance with the type of work being performed, we would be depending solely on verbal representations, which would make all disputes virtually impossible to resolve, and (2) If inspectors are not allowed to ask questions on site, then when it became necessary to conduct actual investigative inquiries, the Department of Labor's only recourse would be to utilize its subpoena power and I believe that would be far more costly and intrusive to both the employer and the employee than a moment to answer few questions.

Question 5. No Answer Circled - While the procedure for dealing with complaints is simply to act upon them by investigating their merit, I do believe that it would benefit all parties if the rules were changed to require prebid conferences with Department of Labor staff so that all contractors interested in receiving tax dollars for public construction work would know exactly what the law requires so that under-payment of wages could not be claimed out of ignorance.

Questionnaire Answers

Question 1. Agree

Question 2. Disagree - If the public has been informed that an employer has been debarred by the Department of Labor, it should only be fair that the public be informed when the debarment has ended.

Question 3. Support - I believe the open market is the best method of determining fair wages and that the government should not impose wages higher than that of the minimum wage.

Question 4. Support - Labor Department officials should not approach workers to question them about wages during the course of that worker's active employment hours. Labor officials should inquire of the employer as to an employee's designated quitting time and question workers after hours. Only in the case of unsafe working conditions should labor officials enter the job site during working hours.

Question 5. - The current practice of the Oklahoma Labor Department of releasing employer's certified payroll information to union halls for inspection should be stopped. It should be the responsibility of the labor department to verify certified payroll reports and subsequent wage complaints through a method or procedure that holds the complainant accountable to show just or reasonable cause. Those who file bogus or frivolous complaints against employers should be held accountable and employers who cheat employees should also be held accountable.

EXPERIENCE: Justice, Supreme Court of Oklahoma, 1984-Present; Judicial Assistant, Supreme Court of Oklahoma, 1972-1984; Associate, Rogers, Travis & Jordan, 1970-1972

Questionnaire Answers (See Questionnaire, page 7)

Question 1. The role of any judge in a democratic society is to uphold one's oath of office and to fairly and impartially decide cases based on the facts and the applicable law. Cases should not be determined by a judge's personal prejudices.

Question 2. State courts are bound by the United States Constitution. If the United States Supreme Court has spoken, a state court is not free to impose its own view of law as it pertains to the competing interests involved. Likewise, the Oklahoma Constitution art. 1, §1, requires compliance with federal constitutional law on issues of federal law. Of course, courts must strive to follow legislative intent. Legislators represent the People's voice. The determination of legislative intent is the paramount rule of statutory construction. Oklahoma courts may at times be at a disadvantage in determining intent, because there is no legislative history of statutory enactments in our state upon which courts may rely.

Question 3. Oklahoma is one of two states in which the Supreme Court does not decide criminal cases. The Oklahoma Constitution art. 7, §1 provides that the Court of Criminal Appeals shall have exclusive appellate jurisdiction in criminal cases is not part of the Supreme Court's constitutional duties.

Question 4. Judges do not act on the basis of their personal beliefs. Judges follow the applicable law. It is very important to note that the law prohibits Justices from commenting on matters which may come before this Court. Canon Three of the Code of Judicial Conduct refers to a judge's duty to perform all responsibilities associated with the office impartially and diligently. This Canon specifically prohibits a judge from making public comment about a pending or impending proceeding in any court. The Canons are codified in the Oklahoma Statutes at 5 O.S. 1991, Ch. 1, App. 4, Canon 3. This question is one which falls within the province of Canon Three.

High schools must meet the standard by June 30, 1995; all other public schools by June 30, 1999. ISSUES: A. Develop a statewide modern telecommunications network. B. Continue to promote Oklahoma's oil and gas industry and find new markets for our abundant natural gas resources. C. Be faithful to the people of Oklahoma. D. Cause the commission to facilitate economic growth and be more responsive to consumer and industry needs.

Questionnaire Answers

Question 1. This question cannot be answered in a single word. The Commission now has exclusive environmental regulatory jurisdiction in exploration for, drilling and producing oil and gas. All other environmental regulatory jurisdiction is in the State Environmental Agency. The present allocation of responsibility is correct, and should be retained. The Corporation Commission has a long history of protecting the environment and steadily improving field conditions. The only necessary change would be for the elected Commissioners to give the front line field staff more resources, and more support in correcting past, present and future pollution problems. Question 2. The Commission already has a major role in economic development. A stable, favorable regulatory climate always is a powerful force in attracting new industry or encouraging industry expansion. Recently, Oklahoma has suffered from Commission actions which have discouraged, not promoted, economic development. Uncertainty from rate proceedings that drag on for years—utility bashing and unproved accusations of wrong doing by one seeking higher office—such conduct adversely affects quality of service to existing businesses and homes, and discourages industry	prospects from choosing Oklahoma. Question 3. The Commission prevents waste by fixing production allowances. Market surplus results in low prices, the worst form of economic waste. As Secretary of Energy, I authored the recently enacted seasonal gas market demand law which caused field prices of Oklahoma gas to rise from $0.95 to $2.50 per mcf. This result was the greatest single economic boost for mineral owners and producers in decades. The Commission's recent inept administration of the law is endangering future gas prices, and threatens renewed waste. Question 4. The Commission's utility regulatory jurisdiction is not an "oversight" function; it is a direct responsibility to establish and enforce utility rates and service requirements. Rates must be fair to the consumer while providing the utility adequate revenues for top flight service and to constantly modernize facilities. These goals can be achieved only by dedicated, impartial, elected commissioners who personally conduct regulatory hearings, rather than assigning this responsibility to employees. No excuse exists for utility hearings to drag on for years.

Questionnaire Answers

Question 1. Support Question 2. The Corporation Commission has direct responsibility for promotion of economic development. From small business to large industrial consumers of natural gas and electric power, growth and job creation depend fundamentally on competitive utility rates. An orderly, fair, streamlined, honest and professional regulatory process attracts new industry and facilitates the growth of existing businesses. For example, the 70-mile diameter toll-free calling circles around Tulsa and Oklahoma City were ordered by the commission and have greatly contributed to business growth. Question 3. Oklahoma has a "forced pooling" law which greatly enhances oil and gas drilling and production in our state. Also, commission rulemaking under Senate Bill 841 will give incentives to rework marginal wells and produce shut-in wells, therefore preventing abandonment or waste of Oklahoma hydrocarbon	resources. By law, mineral owners have property rights which are recognized by Corporation Commission courtroom procedures. The current approach adequately addresses correlative rights and prevention of waste, but we must constantly work to streamline the process. Question 4. When state government grants a monopoly franchise to a utility to provide essential public services, oversight is appropriate to protect consumers. However, to promote reliable utility service, regulated companies must be given the opportunity to earn a fair profit. The process is a "balance act" to ensure fairness to both regulated utilities and the people of Oklahoma. I support new incentive regulation methods and adoption of new technologies to make Oklahoma competitive in today's global economy.

JUDICIAL RETENTION CANDIDATES QUESTIONNAIRE

Question 1. What briefly do you believe the proper role of judges should be in a democratic society? (Limit answer to 80 words.) Question 2. Modern legal training teaches that the U.S. Constitution is a "living" document, which can be revised and fine-tuned as the need arises. Other legal theorists believe that the Constitution is a completed document, and should not be subject to change, except through the amendment process. Please comment on these ideas. Also, how closely bound	do you think judges should be to the "intent" of the framers of the U.S. Constitution and to the "intent" of the state Legislature, in regard to state laws? (Limit answer to 80 words.) Question 3. Our criminal justice system is based on the philosophical idea that crimes are wrongful acts committed against the king (or the state, as a representative of the people, in the American understanding). This foundation has historically meant that the wrongs suffered by crime victims and/or their families are often not considered by the American	criminal justice system. Please comment. (Limit comment to 80 words.) Question 4. Do you personally believe that the U.S. Constitution protects one's right to privacy? If so, would you briefly comment? (Limit comment to 80 words.)

Questionnaire Answers

Question 1. A judge takes an oath to obey and defend the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Oklahoma. Those Constitutions vest government power in three branches of government: legislative, executive, and judicial. The judiciary must remain independent of the other two. A judge must fairly and impartially apply the law to the facts of the case under consideration in order to render a just decision. Question 2. The U.S. Constitution requires the Supreme Courts of Oklahoma and other states to follow the opinions of the United States Supreme Court on the meaning of the U.S. Constitution. In cases where we have no such guidance our Court must determine the intent of its framers. We must also determine the intent of the legislature when called upon to construe state statutes. Usually the legislative intent can be determined by simply reading the statute. Question 3. I sit on the Oklahoma Supreme Court, which does not review criminal cases. However, it is my observation that the criminal justice system is now more sensitive to the wrongs suffered by victims than, say, a generation ago, and I view this as a healthy and beneficial trend. Question 4. The Oklahoma Code of Judicial Conduct states that a candidate for judicial office "should not make pledges or promises of conduct in office other than the faithful and impartial duties of the office (nor) announce his views on disputed legal or political issues." For this reason I must respectfully decline to comment further on the question.

Questionnaire Answers

Question 1. A judge must be one who is able to listen, be courteous to the litigants, yet remain in control of the proceeding. A judge should take the facts presented and apply the applicable law in making his decisions. The role of an appellate judge is to carefully review the trial record on appeal and determine whether the facts and the applicable law have been followed in reaching the decisions under review. Question 2. This Court is bound by the U.S. Supreme Court's interpretation of the Constitution. The Supreme Court of Oklahoma is called upon to answer constitutional issues on a very frequent basis. Each constitutional issue before the court is unique based upon its factual underpinning. The U.S. Constitution was the result of the collective judgment and wisdom of our founding fathers and has lasted for hundreds of years with little change when compared with other constitutions. Question 3. Oklahoma's Supreme Court has no jurisdiction to hear criminal cases. Under our laws the Court of Criminal Appeals is vested with exclusive jurisdiction over criminal matters. During my years as a municipal prosecutor I represented victims in prosecuting defendants on a weekly basis. Much progress has been made in recent years in the area of victim's rights. Question 4. Because these issues may be presently before our court or will undoubtedly come before us in the future, we are prevented by the Judicial Cannons of Ethics in expressing an opinion until that issue is appropriately before us in a justiciable setting.

1994 OKLAHOMA HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES QUESTIONNAIRE RESULTS AND VOTING RECORD

Questionnaire for state candidates is found on page 4

Oklahoma House of Representatives Votes

A. Fiscal Restraint (relates to state House candidates' question 13)

Vote to override Gov. David Walters' veto of S.B. 896, a bill dealing with $3.5 billion in general appropriations for various agencies of state government. The House voted 73-27 on May 9, 1994, to override Walters' veto. What makes S.B. 896 significant is that the state House of Representatives, by its action, voted to appropriate even more money than state agencies had requested.

B. OBE-based Teacher/Principal Preparation System (relates to state House candidates' question 7)

Many parents are concerned about the adoption by local schools of controversial outcomes-based education (OBE). This House vote on H.B. 2246 was on legislation to require the Oklahoma Commission for Teacher Preparation, the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education, and the State Board of Education to develop and implement a new outcomes-based teacher/principal preparation and assessment system for Oklahoma. The 3rd CCR to H.B. 2246 passed the House 71-24 on May 21, 1992.

C. Abortion/Parental Notification (relates to state House candidates' question 10)

Vote on a motion by Rep. Gary Bastin (D-Del City) to suspend the rules and add a pro-life amendment by Rep. Ray Vaughn (R-Edmond) to S.B. 1031. Vaughn's amendment would have required parental notice before an unmarried, pregnant minor could obtain an abortion in Oklahoma. The House passed Bastin's motion by a vote 55-43 on April 21, 1994, but then failed to vote to suspend the rules as required to retain Vaughn's amendment in the final bill.
