ADVISORY NEIGHBORHOOD COMMISSIONS

On November 3rd, you may vote for a representative to your local Advisory Neighborhood Commission (ANC). The ANC advises the D.C. government on community issues such as zoning, police protection, and liquor licensing.

The city is divided into 37 ANCs. Each ANC holds monthly public meetings where it reports to the community and hears from citizens.

Each ANC is divided into Single Member Districts (SMDs) that each represent about 2,000 residents. There are 299 SMDs in all. You will vote to elect an ANC Commissioner from your SMD.

ANC Commissioners are not paid a salary. They are elected every two years in the General Election.

UNITED STATES REPRESENTATIVE

“United States Representative” is a local D.C. office, which has the same title as the federal office that will be created if the District becomes a state.
