LAW OF UKRAINE

ON

ELECTIONS OF PEOPLE'S DEPUTIES OF UKRAINE

The elections of People's Deputies of Ukraine are free and shall be based on principles of universal, equal, and direct suffrage by secret ballot.

The election process shall be based on the following principles: free and equal nomination of candidates for deputies; publicity and openness; equal possibilities for all candidates during the election campaign; non-intervention in the campaign by state bodies, institutions, and organizations, as well as local self-governing bodies; freedom of publicity.

Elections shall be in 450 single mandate electoral districts on the basis of absolute majority.

President
Leonid Makarovich Kravchuk
Kiev, November 18, 1993

Election Observation Guidelines

for International Observers

ELECTION OF PEOPLES' DEPUTIES OF UKRAINE

MARCH 27, 1994
UKRAINE

PREFACE

The general nature of the proposed points for examination contained in the following guidelines are intended to provide observers with a full range of possible inquiry, and are suggestions only. Some points may prove more relevant than others. Consequently, each observer team will need to adapt their observation techniques to particular circumstances.

GENERAL OBSERVER GUIDELINES

- The main objective of election observation is to identify irregular practices that appear to be fraudulent, deliberate and/or pervasive or part of an organized scheme. The presence (or expectation) of observers can play a significant role in deterring such fraudulent practices.
- Observers should not disrupt or interfere with voting, counting or other phases of the election process. Any such interference is prohibited under Ukrainian law. Ask questions, express concerns and render an opinion when asked, but do not give orders or instructions to election officials. Comments should generally be addressed to the polling station commission Chairman.
- Be watchful, and take detailed notes describing questionable or irregular voting or counting practices. It is essential to create a written record of any such practices, including place, time, participants and identity of any witnesses (including address and phone number). Photographs may be taken for the purpose of further documenting such practices. However, this should be done to preserve evidence and not to interfere with the conduct of the elections.
- Recognize that honest mistakes may be made by polling station officials. This can be due to inexperience or unfamiliarity with the election law rather than an intention to compromise the integrity of the election process. Consequently, do not view every error or variation in election administration as a deliberate attempt at fraud. This will require attention to detail and sound judgment on the part of observers.
- If serious problems are encountered at a particular polling station, contact your delegation's headquarters (or the IFES office at the Central Election Commission at 7044-293-6000), or bring those situations to the attention of local authorities who have indicated an interest in such information. Consider returning to a polling station later in the day if serious concerns about irregularities or fraud justify another look or increased observer presence.
- On election day, limit any comments to the news media to the purpose and activities of the observation mission. Refrain from providing opinions to news media as to the general fairness or honesty of the election process. Observer delegations will have the opportunity immediately after the election to share information and report their conclusions.

I. OBSERVING THE OPENING OF THE POLLS

Polling stations for the March 27 elections open at 7 a.m. (and close at 8 p.m.). Try to arrive at a polling station at least 20 minutes early to witness its opening. Introduce yourself to the Chairman of the polling station commission and display your Central Election Commission accreditation as an international observer.

Be careful not to impede the Commission's preparatory work, but take a brief survey of the polling station, including a look inside the voting booths (which should not contain any unofficial instructions or partisan or extraneous materials). Important: Note whether members of the commission and party/candidate representatives are present on time, if ballots and other voting materials are organized and if the polling facility is generally prepared to begin voting.

Before voting commences, the Chairman of the polling station commission should inspect and seal the ballot boxes. A document verifying that the inspection took place and the time that it occurred must be signed by all members of the commission as well as the first voter to come forward to vote.

The verification document should then be dropped into the ballot box. Voters present are then invited to receive their ballots and begin the voting process. Observers should confirm that the requirement for the verification document is observed by the polling station commission. Regulations issued by the Central Election Commission state that the absence of the verification document may provide the basis for challenging the validity of the ballots placed in the ballot boxes.

II. OBSERVING THE VOTING

Approaching a Polling Station. Survey the town or neighborhood for evidence of campaigning, which is prohibited on election day. Be watchful for suspicious activity nearby, including buses or carloads of voters approaching the polling station or voters coming to the polling station from one particular place.

Note the location, accessibility and sufficiency of the polling station.

Observe any indications of disorganization around the polling station, including unusually long lines or people milling around. Note whether security of the polling station is maintained by the presence of police. Once inside, note the orderliness of the polling station and voting activity.

Arrival at the Polling Station. Identify yourself, display your credentials and ask to speak to the Chairman of the polling station commission, with the least possible disruption to the voting process or the Chairman's official duties.

After being introduced, do not confine your conversation to the Chairman; someone on the observer team should keep looking around. Without creating too much distraction, talk to other election officials and authorized representatives of parties and candidates and make clear your availability. Look for particular signs of tension or dissension.

Confirm that all persons working in any capacity as election officials are duly appointed polling station commission members, and that no one else is present at the polling station other than the following:

- the commission
- voters in the process of voting
- representatives of candidates or their agents
- representatives of parties and electoral blocs
- representatives of labor collectives which nominated candidates
- representatives of non-party voters' committees
- international observers
- news media and security officers

Important: ask which parties, candidates and labor collectives are represented.

Note the layout of tables and election materials, including location of ballots and the voter list, and the division of tasks among election officials. Make sure that official printed information about candidates and the text of the election law is located in areas of the polling station accessible to voters.

Voter Identification and Registration. Voters are to produce their passport or other form of identification. They are then given a ballot, which must be stamped with a commission seal and signed by a member of the polling station commission. The voters then place their signature next to their name on the voter registry to confirm their receipt of ballots. Ask if anyone has come to the polls with inadequate identification and if they were refused the opportunity to vote.

Inquire about the total number of voters registered to vote at the polling station and the number who have already voted. Ask by what manner the voter list was displayed for public scrutiny prior to the election, and if any additions or corrections were requested by citizens or made by the commission.

Ask permission to examine the voter registry and note how names have been signed, in or marked. Ask if anyone has been refused an opportunity to vote because their name did not appear on the voter list.

Ask to look at any names added to the "special list." This is an additional list of citizens allowed to vote without appearing on the voter registry because they have recently moved to the locale, are on a business trip or temporarily staying in a local hospital, health spa or hotel. Important: note if the "special list" seems to comprise an unusually large proportion of the voters at the polling station.

Form of Ballots. The ballots are to list candidates alphabetically and contain the following information for each candidate: Surname, name, patronymic, date of birth, party affiliation and occupation.

Observe the handling and method of distribution of ballots. Important: Ask to examine a ballot as it is being issued and look for the commission's seal (control stamp) and the signature of a member of the commission on each ballot for authentication. Do not touch or handle ballots in any way. Note whether ballots on the tables are kept in secure and tidy piles.

Inquire of the Chairman when the ballots and other voting materials were delivered from the constituency election commission and what arrangements were made for the security of the voting materials from the time the ballots arrived at the commission until the polls opened.

Voting Procedure. Observe the manner in which voters are given instructions, if any, for voting and for properly marking ballots and placing ballots in the ballot boxes, and note whether such instructions are biased or repeatedly using one party or candidate choice as an example.

After receiving the ballots from the commission, the voters take them to the voting booth or room and mark their ballots. This is done by "negative" voting, in which the voters cross out the names of all candidates against whom they vote, leaving only the name of the voters' selection. Upon completion of voting, voters exit the booth and place the ballots in one of the ballot boxes and leave the polling station. Important: Note whether secrecy of voting was adequately ensured. Observe the area of the ballot boxes and whether it is in the line of sight of the commission or otherwise monitored.

Voters Needing Assistance. Voters not capable of voting by themselves may be assisted at the polling station by any person except they may not be assisted by members of the commission, candidates for deputy or their authorized representatives. Important: Ask if anyone has assisted more than one voter and, if so, their name. Important: Inquire if anyone has attempted to vote for other family members not present at the polling station and if they were allowed to do so (such voting is not permitted by the current election law but was commonly practiced in previous elections in Ukraine).

Spoiled Ballots. If voters recognize during the process of voting that they have marked a ballot contrary to the procedure or to their desired choice, they may seek a new ballot from the commission to correct their mistake. The law is unclear as to the proper course for replacing spoiled ballots. The best course would be for the commission to immediately void and segregate a spoiled ballot and issue the voter a new one (and subsequently report the total number of spoiled ballots). Important: Ask if any voters have spoiled their ballots and how such situations are resolved, and note.

Voting Outside the Polling Site. Citizens eligible to vote but who are unable to come to the polls due to ill health or other valid reasons may make a request to their polling station commission to have a mobile ballot box brought to their home.

At least three members of the polling station commission are to take the mobile box to such voters; they are given the same number of ballots as the number of applications. An extract from the voters list should be given to the members of the commission with the mobile box by the Chairman of the polling station commission. After voting, a special mark should be made to the extract at the voter's place of residence. At the conclusion of voting, the commission members must then attach the extract to the voters list.

Important: Ask how may voters have requested the mobile ballot box be brought to them and the arrangements and time for such voting. Observers are entitled to accompany commission members as they make their rounds with the mobile ballot box; ask the Chairman when the polling station commission plans to send out the mobile box and accompany if possible.

Concluding Questions. Inquire whether the polling station commission was provided with official training and any written instructions or guidelines for the conduct of the elections from the Central Election Commission or Constituency Election Commissions. Ask about arrangements for transporting the polling station commission minutes to the Constituency Commissions at the conclusion of the counting and tabulation process.

Ask the Chairman if there have been any problems, disturbances, delays, irregularities or complaints regarding the voting, and the result or resolution of such matters. If possible, ask representatives of parties, candidates, labor collectives and non-party voters committees if they are satisfied with the conduct of the election at the polling station and the performance of the Chairman and commission members, and if they are aware of any problems, irregularities or complaints occurring at or near the polling station.

Questions for Voters. Although not a requirement, voters may be interviewed outside the polling station after they complete voting. If it is possible to do so without causing concern or disruptions, you may ask:

- their general impressions of the competency of the polling station commission and the fairness of the voting process in their location and whether they have heard of any irregularities or complaints;
- if they believe balloting was genuinely secret;
- if they felt subject to any undue pressure or intimidation regarding their voting choice;
- whether they considered media coverage of the election campaign to be fair as to party, candidate and labor collective programs and informative as to voting procedures.

If any uniformed military voters are present, ask them the circumstances under which they were entitled to vote and whether they were given access to information about parties, candidates and labor collectives.

III. OBSERVING THE COUNTING OF THE VOTES

Plan to arrive at the polling site shortly before 8 p.m. for purposes of observing the counting and tabulation of the votes. Accredited international observers are entitled to be present and witness the counting and tabulation process.

Polling stations located at hospitals, health care institutions, military units, remote areas, vessels at sea and representative offices of Ukraine are permitted to cease the voting process and begin counting before 8 p.m. if all registered voters have already voted. Also, voters present at the polling station and abroad waiting to vote at 8 p.m. should be permitted to vote.

Preparation for Tabulation. The Chairman of the polling station commission shall announce that voting is over. Tabulation is to begin after all voters have left the polling station, and is to be performed only by polling station commission members.

Other persons entitled to be present at counting and tabulation are representatives of candidates, parties, electoral blocs, labor collectives, non party voters' committees international observers, news media and security officers.

During the tabulation of votes, the polling station commission should follow the following procedures:

1. After voting is finished, the commission cancels, counts, and packs in sealed envelopes the unused ballots. The name and number of the polling station and the number of unused ballots is indicated in the packet. The packet is signed by the Chairman, Deputy Chairman, and Secretary of the commission and is sealed.
2. The commission determines, according to main and additional voters lists, the general number of voters on the voters list at the polling station and the number of voters who participated in the election (received a ballot).
3. The Chairman of the commission, in the presence of the members of the commission, checks the integrity of the ballot boxes and opens them.
4. The commission determines the general number of ballots and the number of invalid and spoiled ballots.

The commission counts the total number of ballots and the number of ballots deemed invalid. The following ballots are considered invalid: irregular ballots, ballots with the names of more than one candidate undeleted and ballots without the commission stamp and/or the signature of the commission member who issued them.

Any doubts as to the validity of a ballot are resolved by a vote of the members of the polling station commission. Invalid ballots are then packed into separate envelopes which are sealed in such a manner that it would be impossible to remove any ballot from the envelope or add any ballot into it without damaging the seal. The name, number of the polling station, and the quantity of ballots are indicated on the envelope.

5. The commission separately calculates the number of votes for every candidate. Ballots are then placed into individual envelopes for every candidate and sealed.
6. The commission shall review the results of the tabulation of the votes which are entered into the minutes of the session. The minutes shall include:
  - the name and number of the polling station;
  - the total number of electors included in the lists of voters of the electoral district;
  - the number of voters who received ballots;
  - the number of electors who participated in the election;
  - the number of votes "for" and "against" each candidate;
  - the number of invalid ballots.

1. There shall be three copies of the minutes. Each copy of the minutes is signed by the Chairman, Deputy Chairman, Secretary and members of the commission. The first copy of the minutes and all ballots are then sent to the appropriate constituency election commission. The second and the third copies as well as the voters list are kept at the polling station. One of the copies shall be immediately posted at the polling station.

Important: Find out how the ballots are to be transported to the Constituency Election Commission and what type of security arrangements are made for the ballots during their delivery. If possible, observe the loading of ballots for transport. Note whether security is provided by police during the loading and transporting process. If possible, arrange to be present at a Constituency Election Commission to observe the receipt of ballots.

Announcement of Results by Constituency Election Commission. Based upon the minutes from polling station commissions, the Constituency Election Commission issues a report on the following:

- The number of voters in the constituency.
- The number of voters who received ballots.
- The number of voters who cast ballots
- The number of voters "for" and "against" each candidate.
- The number of invalid ballots.

One copy of the report is immediately sent to the Central Election Commission, one copy is kept at the Constituency Election Commission and one copy is sent to each candidate in the constituency.

Runoff Elections. An election is valid if the Constituency Election Commission determines that:

- At least 50% of the voters on the voters list of the constituency participate in the election
- A candidate receives at least 50% of the votes cast
- A candidate receives the votes of at least 25% of the total number of voters on the voters list of the constituency

If the turnout and vote totals do not meet these standards, runoff elections will be held between the two candidates receiving the most votes.

IV. FORMS

Attached for use by observers are the following forms:

- Polling Station Observation Forms
- Counting and Tabulation Forms

Your use of these forms will greatly assist the effort to provide written documentation on the conduct of the Ukrainian elections. As part of this process, it is important that we consolidate our findings. We request that you return your forms and other written materials so that a comprehensive report of our findings can be produced.

In order to make the return of your forms as easy as possible, we have arranged for 4 drop off points for your convenience:

HOW TO FILL OUT

THE BALLOT

CORRECTLY

On the appointed day, we are to go to the polling station in order to make our choice. But before depositing our ballot in the election urn, we must remember a few elementary rules:

The voter, according to Ukraine's Law, "on the elections of peoples' deputies of Ukraine," may leave only one name not crossed out or the voter may cross out all names, thereby crossing out all the candidates' names against whom he/she is voting. Ballots on which more than one name are not crossed out and which are not stamped or signed by the member of the election commission who gave the voter the ballot, as well as ballots other than the authorized sample, are not valid.

In its turn, the Central Election Commission has explained how to cross out the names. It resolved that the name of each of the candidates against whom the voter is casting his vote may only be crossed out by a horizontal line. All other forms of crossing out (vertically, X-ing out, marking the names with a Z, etc.) make the ballot invalid.

The sample is offered for your attention. We note that in election districts where there are many candidates, the ballot differs. The names of the candidates are printed on two sides of the ballot.

Within the structure of election commissions, which under the Law of Ukraine "On the Elections of People's Deputies of Ukraine" (hereinafter referred to as the Election Law) are responsible for the preparation and conduct of the upcoming parliamentary elections, an important role is played by polling station commissions. They provide information on the candidates nominated with the constituency, compile voter lists, make them available to the public, supervise the equipment of polling stations, organize the voting, count ballots and discharge voting other functions within their jurisdiction determined in Article 16 of the Election Law.

In view of the importance and distinctive character of the polling station commissions in the electoral mechanism, the Central Election Commission deems it necessary to draw their attention to the following issues bearing upon the preparation and conduct of the elections.

HOW TO ORGANIZE THE WORK OF THE POLLING STATIONS COMMISSIONS

The polling station commissions begin their incumbency on the day of their formation and are disbanded ten days after the Central Election Commission confirms the mandate of the elected candidates. It is recommended that in the initial stage of their operation the polling station commissions carefully study the Election Law, resolutions of the election commissions at higher levels as well as other materials setting forth guidelines for the preparation and conduct of the elections. The polling station commission must draw up a schedule of its activity for the entire period of its incumbency. It also draws up a separate schedule for election day. These schedules are approved at a session of the polling station commission. The polling station commission works mainly in sessions. It is within the session framework that the commission members hold discussions on issues falling within the commission's competence and make decisions.

For the commission's decision to be binding, two-thirds of the members must be present. The new Election Law contains a regulation whereby the session of the polling station commission must be conducted by its Chairman or Deputy Chairman, and if neither is able to preside, the commission should appoint one of the members in attendance as temporary Chairman. It is to be noted that the sessions of the polling station commission on election day and during the vote count may be attended by the candidates, campaign agents of proxies, one representative from each party or election bloc, one from each labor collective that nominated a candidate, one - from each non-partisan committee set up to monitor the elections as well as by official observers representing foreign states and international organizations.

Under the Law the authority of the aforementioned representatives must be verified by appropriate documents. They may not interfere with the work of polling station commissions. If they notice violations of the Election Law they have the right to appeal to the polling station or constituency commissions or draw up a report which must be signed by the person who noticed the violation and by those voters who witnessed it. The appeal or report must be registered with the commission.

If the persons mentioned in part 3 Article 3 of the Election Law obstruct the proceeding of a session in any way, the polling station commission may decide to deprive them of the right to participate in the session. Parties and election blocs registered in given constituency commission may appoint one representative to a polling station commission with the right to take the floor. The right to take the floor envisions the opportunity to express one's views, make statements, comments, etc. In so far as the representatives of parties (or election blocs) with the right to take the floor are not members to the polling station commission, they have no right to vote at the sessions. Hence the commission may choose to disregard proposals put forward by non-members. But it does not mean that all such proposals are necessarily dismissed. Those that the commission considers relevant may be taken up for discussion.

As regards representatives of the mass media, the Election Law guarantees their unrestricted access to all assemblies and meetings pertaining to the elections. The polling station commissions must notify voters of their location and working hours via posters, placards, or any other appropriate forms of advertisement. The building housing the polling station must bear the sign clearly indicating the area over which the latter has jurisdiction. On the premises occupied by the polling station commission a roster commission members should be established to handle oral and written queries by voters and explain the Election Law. Under the decree of the Presidium of the Ukrainian Parliament dated December 13, 1993, the Local Councils of People's Deputies at all levels (village, town, city, city district) and local bodies of state executive power are instructed to take all necessary steps in order to create requisite conditions under which polling station commissions could effectively operate. They are also responsible for providing them with office space, means of communication,

They are also responsible for providing them with office space, means of communication, transportation and stationery according to part 5, Article 17, of the Election Law.

State enterprises, institutions and organizations must assist the election commissions in discharging their functions. The expenses of each polling station commission are covered by the funds allocated from the state budget. The District or City Departments of Finance release the funds in keeping with the quotas of expenditure approved by the resolution of the Central Election Commission # 5 of December 10, 1993 at the request of the commission Chairman.

The Chairman, Deputy Chairman, Secretary and one of the commission members can be released for the time of the election campaign from their duties at their main place of work, this being subject to approval by the polling station commission and the respective constituency commission. The salary of an election commission member is determined by averaging his indexed monthly pay over the period of the last three months, indexation considered. The commission member gets paid at his main place of work with consequent compensation to the enterprise, institution or organization paid from the state budget.

Decisions and actions of the polling station commissions can be protested by voters in an appeal to the respective constituency commission within 10 days after the incident. Complaints regarding the failure of a polling station commission to correct errors in the voter list upon request, should be submitted to the court having jurisdiction over the area where the respective polling station commission is located. A decision on the case must be made within three days.

The Election Law provides for liability for the members of election commissions, state and public officials who forge election documents, deliberately miscount the votes, violate the secrecy of the voting, or otherwise violate the Election Law.

This liability is established by the Criminal Code of Ukraine. Any obstruction to the free exercise of citizens' right to vote or be elected People's Deputy or participate in the election campaign by means of violence, threats of violence, fraud, bribery or otherwise is punishable by up to 5 years of imprisonment, or up to 2 years of hard labor, or by a fine in the amount of up to 10 minimum wages. The same actions if committed by a member of an election commission or any civil servant are punishable by one to five years of imprisonment, or by up to 5 years of hard labor, or by a fine in the amount of seven to fifteen minimum wages (see Article 127). Forgery of election documents, addition or a deliberate miscounting of votes by a member of an election commission or by any civil servant are punishable by one to five years of imprisonment, or by up to 2 years of hard labor, or by a fine in the amount of seven to fifteen minimum wages (see Article 128). Violation of the secrecy of the voting by a member of an election commission or any civil servant is punishable by one to five years of imprisonment, or by up to 2 years of hard labor, or by a fine in the amount of seven to fifteenth minimum wages (see Article 129). Liability for the violation of the Election Law is also contained in the Code of Ukraine on Administrative Infringements (see Article 186).

Public calls or agitation for the boycott of the election of a candidate, publication or distribution of false information about a candidate in any form, as well as campaigning on Election Day for or against a candidate shall incur a fine in the amount of three to seven minimum wages.

The issuing of a ballot containing the names of candidates not registered with the polling station commission shall incur a fine in the amount of up to five minimum wages. Interference with the work of the election commission, inhibiting the discharge of their duties regarding the registration of candidates, the vote-count, as well as the announcement of the final results, shall incur a fine in the amount of three to six minimum wages.

VOTER LISTS AND HOW THEY ARE COMPILED

Voter lists for the parliamentary elections must be compiled no later than thirty days before Election Day by every polling station. This will be done on the basis of information about the electorate of a given polling station furnished by the executive bodies of the respective local (village, town, city and city district) Councils of People's Deputies. The voter lists for polling stations set up at hospitals, on vessels at sea, at Ukrainian diplomatic and trade missions abroad, as well as for units of the Armed Forces, will be compiled from the information provided by the administration of the aforementioned institutions, the captains of the vessels or the commanders of the military units.

Voter lists are to be signed by the Chairman and Secretary of the polling station commission. Keeping in mind that the voter list is a document ensuring the free exercise of citizens' right to vote, polling station commissions should take special care in compiling it, by avoiding omissions and errors in the voter data. Voter lists are to be compiled in accordance with the procedure approved by the Central Election Commission. They must be typed or legibly hand-written in duplicate at the least. Voters must be entered on the lists in the order (alphabetical, by building or street numbers etc) suitable for the purposes of the voting. Note that no voter may be listed at more than one polling station.

HOW TO PUBLICIZE VOTER LISTS AND MAKE CHANGES THEREIN

Under the Election Law the voter list must be made available to the general public by the polling station commission no later than fifteen days prior to the Election Day, that is no later than March 12, 1994. As regards the voter list for the polling stations set up at hospitals and vessels at sea, they must be made available to the general public no later than two days prior to the Election Day, that is before March 25, 1994.

The polling station commissions must notify the public in advance as to when and where they can acquaint themselves with the voter list, by putting advertisements in the local press, advertising via radio as well as by setting up posters, leaflets or using any other appropriate form of advertisement. Every citizen must be guaranteed free access to the voter list and the opportunity to make sure that the information it contains pertaining to him is correct. The law does not prohibit citizens from making phone inquiries to ascertain the accuracy of their entry in the voter list.

Every citizen may submit a request for inclusion on, or exclusion from, the list. He may also lodge a complaint with the polling station commission about errors in his data. The polling station commission must review the complaint (or request) and make changes if necessary. Should it turn down the complaint (or request), the complainant must receive a copy of the commission's decision. This decision can be disputed in an appeal to the district or city court. The court's decision is final.

The polling station commission must deal with the complaints (or requests) of the type mentioned above within the time limits laid down in part 3 Article 22 of the Election Law.

THE BALLOT

Under the Election Law the format of the ballot for the parliamentary elections is established by the Central Election Commission while the text on the ballot is approved by the constituency commission.

The constituency commission is responsible for the manufacture and supply of the ballots. The polling station commissions should ensure that the ballots are received no later than on March 12, 1994 (15 days before the election day) because from that day on a voter, if he changes his address, has the right under the Election Law to cast his ballot before the appointed time. After the ballots arrive, the polling station commission should immediately verify their format, absence of defects and the number of copies received. Each polling station commission must have a sufficient reserve of ballots. The polling station commission should ensure safekeeping of the ballots up to the end of the election campaign.

HOW TO ORGANIZE THE BALLOT

Under the Election Law it is incumbent on the polling station commission to organize the ballot, ensure its secrecy, set up the polling station, and keep law and order inside it. It is important that in keeping with the Election Law, information about all the candidates and the text of the Election Law be posted inside each voting booth.

The Election Law requires that no later than ten days before Election Day the polling station commission should send each voter an invitation to take part in the elections. On the Election day the voting will be held from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Due to the requirements of the voting procedure whereby every voter will cast his ballot in person, passing through the voting booth first before accessing the ballot box, a sufficient number of voting booths at each polling station must be set up. The polling station commission orders the manufacture of a sufficient number of ballot boxes. Their shape and dimensions are established by the resolution of the Central Election Commission dated December 10, 1993.

The polling station commissions should note that the Election Law requires that on Election Day after the ballot boxes have been sealed but before the start of the ballot, a authentication slip signed by the commission members and the first voter to turn up should be dropped into every ballot box. The authentication slip should indicate the time it was dropped into the ballot box. The absence of this document in the ballot boxes at the end of the ballot would evidence that the box was members to organize a ballot at their place of stay. A voter who cast his ballot at his place of stay should confirm the receipt of the ballot by signing on the extract from the voter list and votes according to the procedure established by the Election Law. Upon the completion of the procedure the voter's name is marked off in the voter list. The extract is to be attached to the voter list.

It must be noted that on the Election Day some citizens of Ukraine staying at health farms or holiday camps where polling stations have not been set up, as well as hotel guests who are Ukrainian nationals, may request polling station commission to provide them with an opportunity to take part in the elections. In this event an application in writing must be submitted. In considering such applications the polling station commission is guided by the principle that all citizens living on the territory of Ukraine have the right to vote. The only reason for refusal could be the ascertained fact of voting at another polling station or the applicant's failure to vote before the appointed time under the provision contained in Article 41 of the Election Law without sufficient grounds therefore. If an applicant is granted the opportunity to vote, his name will be included on the additional voter list (the application must be attached to the list) whereupon he will take part in the ballot on a regular basis.

VOTING BEFORE THE APPOINTED TIME

Within the structure of election commissions, which under the Law of Ukraine "On the Elections of People's Deputies of Ukraine" (hereinafter referred to as the Election Law) are responsible for the preparation and conduct of the upcoming parliamentary elections, an important role is played by polling station commissions. They provide information on the candidates nominated with the constituency, compile voter lists, make them available to the public, supervise the equipment of polling stations, organize the voting, count ballots and discharge voting other functions within their jurisdiction determined in Article 16 of the Election Law.

In view of the importance and distinctive character of the polling station commissions in the electoral mechanism, the Central Election Commission deems it necessary to draw their attention to the following issues bearing upon the preparation and conduct of the elections.

HOW TO ORGANIZE THE WORK OF THE POLLING STATIONS COMMISSIONS

The polling station commissions begin their incumbency on the day of their formation and are disbanded ten days after the Central Election Commission confirms the mandate of the elected candidates. It is recommended that in the initial stage of their operation the polling station commissions carefully study the Election Law, resolutions of the election commissions at higher levels as well as other materials setting forth guidelines for the preparation and conduct of the elections. The polling station commission must draw up a schedule of its activity for the entire period of its incumbency. It also draws up a separate schedule for election day. These schedules are approved at a session of the polling station commission. The polling station commission works mainly in sessions. It is within the session framework that the commission members hold discussions on issues falling within the commission's competence and make decisions. For the commission's decision to be binding, two-thirds of the members must be present. The new Election Law contains a regulation whereby the session of the polling station commission must be conducted by its Chairman or Deputy Chairman, and if neither is able to preside, the commission should appoint one of the members in attendance as temporary Chairman. It is to be noted that the sessions of the polling station commission on election day and during the vote count may be attended by the candidates, campaign agents of proxies, one representative from each party or election bloc, one - from each labor collective that nominated a candidate, one - from each non-partisan committee set up to monitor the elections as well as by official observers representing foreign states and international organizations.

Under the Law the authority of the aforementioned representatives must be verified by appropriate documents. They may not interfere with the work of polling station commissions. If they notice violations of the Election Law they have the right to appeal to the polling station or constituency commissions or draw up a report which must be signed by the person who noticed the violation and by those voters who witnessed it. The appeal or report must be registered with the commission.

If the persons mentioned in part 3 Article 3 of the Election Law obstruct the proceeding of a session in any way, the polling station commission may decide to deprive them of the right to participate in the session. Parties and election blocs registered in given constituency commission may appoint one representative to a polling station commission with the right to take the floor. The right to take the floor envisions the opportunity to express one's views, make statements, comments, etc. In so far as the representatives of parties (or election blocs) with the right to take the floor are not members to the polling station commission, they have no right to vote at the sessions. Hence the commission may choose to disregard proposals put forward by non-members. But it does not mean by the polling station commission after a voter produces his passport or some other document to verify his identity. Unlike at the previous elections, the commission member issuing the ballot must also stamp or sign it. The voter must confirm the issuance of the ballot by signing against his name in the voter list.

Under the Election Law the polling station commission ensures that the voters, who due to poor health or for some other reason are unable to come to the polling station in person, still take part in the elections. Following such requests, the commission instructs no less than three of its members to organize a ballot at their place of stay. A voter who cast his ballot at his place of stay should confirm the receipt of the ballot by signing on the extract from the voter list and votes according to the procedure reestablished by the Election Law. Upon the completion of the procedure the voter's name is marked off in the voter list. The extract is to be attached to the voter list.

It must be noted that on the Election Day some citizens of Ukraine staying at health farms or holiday camps where polling stations have not been set up, as well as hotel guests who are Ukrainian nationals, may request polling station commission to provide them with an opportunity to take part in the elections.

In this event an application in writing must be submitted. In considering such applications the polling station commission is guided by the principle that all citizens living on the territory of Ukraine have the right to vote. The only reason for refusal could be the ascertained fact of voting at another polling station or the applicant's failure to vote before the appointed time under the provision contained in Article 41 of the Election Law without sufficient grounds therefore. If an applicant is granted the opportunity to vote, his name will be included on the additional voter list (the application must be attached to the list) whereupon he will take part in the ballot on a regular basis.

VOTING BEFORE THE APPOINTED TIME

If the voter changes his place of residence after the voter list has been made available to the public but before the Election Day, he may vote before the appointed time at the polling station where he is listed. In this event the polling station commission upon the voter's request issues him a ballot (the passport or some other document verifying his identity must be produced prior to the issuance of the ballot). The completed ballot should be dropped into the sealed ballot box and kept there until Election Day. The voter must confirm the issuance of the ballot by signing against his name in the voter list.

HOW VOTES ARE COUNTED AT THE POLLING STATION

The polling station commission conducts a separate count of votes for each candidate. The following procedure is established by the Election Law to be followed by the polling station commission during the vote-count.

1. At the end of the ballot the commission cancels, counts and packs the unused ballots in the manner prescribed by the Law.
2. The polling station commission determines the total number of voters listed with the polling station and the number of voters who took part in the elections according to the main and additional voter list.
3. The commission Chairman checks the seals on the ballot boxes and opens them in the presence of the other commission members.
4. The commission counts the total number of ballots and the number of ballots determined invalid. Irregular ballots, ballots with the names of more than one candidate left undeleted and ballots without the stamp or signature of the commission member who issued it are considered invalid. If all the candidates are crossed out from the ballot, the ballot is valid. It is meant thereby that the voter has voted against each and every candidate. Should there be additional entries on the ballot, these are not counted. Any doubts as to the validity of the ballot should be resolved by putting the issue to a vote. Invalid ballots must be packed into separate envelopes which are subsequently sealed in keeping with the regulation contained in Article 42 of the Election Law;
5. The commission conducts separate counts for every candidate. Then the ballots should be placed into envelopes, one for each candidate, and sealed as specified in Article 42 of the Election Law;

6. The commission reviews the results of the count at its session which are then recorded in the minutes, these having been made in triplicate;

7. Each copy of the minutes must be signed by the Chairman, Deputy Chairman, Secretary and the other commission members. The first copy of the minutes and all the ballots are thereupon immediately sent to the respective constituency commission in conformity with rules laid down by it. The second and the third copies as well as the voter list are to be kept with the polling station commission. One of these copies must be immediately posted at the polling station by way of public announcement of the election results.

The voters list, the second and the third copies of the minutes containing the ballot results as well as all the other records of the polling station commission (minutes of its sessions, work schedules, diaries, correspondence etc.) upon its disbandment must be handed over to the respective Councils of People's Deputies or the executive bodies which formed the above-mentioned commissions.
